MOHIT SAXENA

SUMMARY

I am a third-year student pursuing Computer Science Engineering from Delhi Technical Campus, Greater Noida. I am enthusiastic about connecting with people and constantly learning new things. Recently, I have been focusing on frontend development and am currently acquiring skills in React JS, a popular JavaScript library for building user interfaces.

Additionally, I am actively studying Data Structures and Algorithms using JAVA, which is essential knowledge for efficient programming and problem-solving. My goal is to become a full-stack developer, as I find it Fascinating to be able to create every aspect of a website, from the frontend to the backend.
